They, thereupon, withdrew from the room with the treasurer's records.

On call of the president, Mr. G. W. Lee reported the results of the round table conference held the preceding evening devoted to the discussion of classification systems for special collections. Motion made by Mr. Lee, and duly seconded, that a committee be appointed by the Special Libraries Association to consider the various schemes of classification as to their applicability to special library collections with the purpose of evolving through co-operation some uniform system which may be adapted to the different special fields of library work.

Mr. G. E. Marion then reported the results of the discussion at the round table on the preceding evening devoted to clippings and magazine articles in a special library.

The president then called for other round table reports, but the leaders being absent, business was proceeding, when Mr. H. H. B. Meyer entered the room and reported the results of the round table held the preceding evening under his charge upon the subject of "Coöperative analytic indexing of a selected number of engineering societies' proceedings." At the close of this round table Miss Frick offered a motion that a committee of five be appointed by the chairman of the meeting (Round table No. 4), Mr. Meyer, to consider the indexing of technical literature and see if it is feasible. This motion was adopted by the round table and the following committee was appointed by Mr. Meyer: Mr. W. P. Cutler, chairman; Miss E. H. Frick; Mr. R. H. Johnston; Mr. W. B. Gamble; Mr. F. N. Morton.

Motion was made by Mr. Campbell, and seconded by Mr. Lapp, that the report as made by Mr. Meyer be adopted. Carried.

Mr. Campbell, of New York City, then presented the following resolution:

Whereas: It is the consensus of opinion of the membership of the Special Libraries Association that there is a strong and growing demand for more and efficient coöperation among those engaged in municipal reference work, and

Whereas: A national center for municipal information seems best fitted to meet the demand, and

Whereas: There is no agreement as to where this work can be most advantageously done, now therefore

Be it resolved: That the president appoint a committee of five to investigate and make recommendations to the Special Libraries Association on or before the next meeting of said association as to the existing sources of information and the condition under which this information may be obtained, and if it appears desirable, to establish a central organization to report as to the location, support, organization and management of such national center for municipal information.

Motion was made by Mr. Campbell, and seconded by Mr. Macfarlane, that the above resolution be adopted. This was discussed at some length by Mr. Ranck and Mr. Lapp. Motion finally carried. The chair did then appoint the following gentlemen to constitute this committee: Mr. John Cotton Dana, chairman; Mr. H. E. Flack; Mr. John A. Lapp; Mr. Samuel H. Ranck; Mr. R. H. Campbell.

The secretary then read the minutes of the meeting of the Executive board held at 1:30 p. m. of that day. Motion was made by Mr. Macfarlane, and duly seconded, that this report of the Executive board be accepted and adopted as a whole, with the exception of the item relating to the appointment of a committee to have charge of the publication by the Association of a book descriptive of the special library movement. Motion was carried.

Motion was made that we now take up the matter of the training of special librarians. Mr. O. E. Norman, who was the chairman of the first committee to collect data upon this subject, then briefly outlined his views upon the subject. Motion was made and duly seconded that a new committee of three be appointed by the chair to continue the work upon training for special librarianship. Motion carried. The president announced that he would defer his appointments until a later date.

Motion was made by Mr. Brigham, and duly seconded, that a committee of three be appointed by the president to publish a book devoted to the special library movement. This motion was discussed by the secretary, Mr. Bell of Illinois, and Mr. Chamberlain of Boston. An amendment to the above motion was then offered to the effect "that the action of this new committee should be subject to the authority of the Executive board" and was accepted. The original motion was then put and carried.

kill. Motion was made by Mr. Handy, and seconded by Mr. Marion, that the present committee as constituted be continued. Motion was carried.

Mr. Handy then reassumed the chair and introduced Mr. E. C. Wolf, of the Curtis Publishing Company, who presented a paper entitled, "Collected information in print and the training of employes of the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia."* Motion was made by Mr. Lee, and seconded by Mr. Lapp, that this paper be accepted and filed. Carried. Very free discussion followed Mr. Wolf's paper regarding the appointment of a committee to work out the ideas which he had presented in his paper. Awaiting the presentation of this motion in good form, business proceeded as follows.

Motion was made by Miss Glenn, and seconded by Mr. Lee, that the exhibits displayed at this convention be sent to Boston where they should be held subject to the call of the exhibitors themselves. Motion was carried.

Announcement was then made of the Executive board meeting to be held on Friday morning, May 29, at 11 o'clock.

At this point Mr. Wolf, after conferring with Mr. Lapp, presented the following resolution:

Whereas: The reference or technical library in the corporation meets the needs of a few, enlarging the information of those few along highly specialized lines, there is a great need for a library which will reach all employes in every business organization. A general business library, established and developed to increase the knowledge of each employe in his particular line of work and to fit him for the job ahead, will be a definite factor in increasing human efficiency and thereby advancing industrial progress,

Resolved: That a committee of three be appointed by the president to investigate the business library problem in corporations, for the purpose of making such an institution a factor for increasing the efficiency of ALL the employes; and to develop concrete methods to be furnished to those corporations which desire to establish libraries for that purpose.

* Special Libraries, June, 1914, p. 96.

Motion was made by Mr. Wolf, and seconded by Mr. Lapp, that this resolution be adopted. Motion was carried. Mr. Handy then announced that these appointments would be turned over to the incoming administration. He then introduced the president-elect, Mr. R. H. Johnston, of Washington, who took the chair and greeted the members.

A motion was immediately offered that a vote of thanks be tendered to the president who has guided the Association during the last two years. The motion was duly seconded and carried.

Meeting adjourned at 10:45 p. m.

Secretary.

NORMAL AND HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARIANS

JOINT MEETING

The second annual meeting was called to order by Miss Mary E. Hall, librarian of the girls' high school, Brooklyn. The opening address, on "College and normal school courses in the use of the library and in children's literature," assigned to Dr. P. P. Claxton, U. S. Commissioner of Education, was delivered, in his absence, by Dr. Samuel P. Capen, specialist in higher education in the Bureau of Education.

The library is a laboratory, the only one everyone has to keep on using after school is ended. It is absurd to expect a student to use a laboratory without instruction. That teachers have not told students how to unlock the library is extraordinary. Statistics, in the report of the Commissioner of Education for 1912, on the spread of courses in the use of the library, analyzed by Dr. Wolcott, were given. Figures for 1913, from manuscript in the Bureau of Education, show an increase of institutions offering such courses. These courses are of two kinds: 1, those offering instruction in the technical part of library work; 2, those giving instruction in the use of books and in children's literature. The second is the more useful. Three publications mark the advance of library courses in schools. The report to the National Education Association in 1905 of the Committee on instruction in library administration in normal schools; the report of Mr. James V. Sturgis, principal of the Geneseo State Normal School on the training of teachers in the use of books, in the National Education Association proceedings for 1910, and the report of the Committee on normal school libraries, in the proceedings of the same for 1913. These reports show that the movement is growing rapidly. Results when commented on have a favorable verdict, for pupils are able to do their school work faster. Library lessons should be given in high schools in order that normal schools may specialize on courses for teachers.

Dr. J. D. Wolcott, librarian of the Bureau of Education, told how the library of the Bureau of Education may serve the schools. He said he wished to extend the service of the library and welcomed suggestions for its wider use. The library has a large collection of pedagogical material, both old and new, and an attempt is made to have it as complete as possible. While it is primarily for the use of the specialists of the Bureau and for the staff, the aim is to make it a circulating and reference library for the whole United States, as well as a clearing house for statistics and information. Books are loaned freely to public, university and normal school libraries, and to responsible individuals. Since last fall package libraries have been sent to school superintendents of towns, cities and counties. These libraries contain from twenty-five to fifty books, selected either by the superintendent or by one of the staff of the Bureau, bearing on the topics to be discussed in teachers' meetings. The bibliographic service furnishes free informa-
